EDEN

An iconic home for forward-thinking businesses

As one of the UK's most sustainable offices buildings, Eden has become a landmark – not just in Greater Manchester – but across the whole region and beyond.

Roof Terrace, Eden

Spice & Grind, Eden

Located in New Bailey's thriving business district just a short walk from Manchester city centre, the whole building has been designed with the modern workforce in mind.

An award-winning and trail-blazing workplace, it's the natural home for forward-thinking businesses seeking a healthy, connected and environmentally conscious way of working.

EDEN

Amenities to promote health and wellbeing

Designed to WELL Standard, all occupiers at Eden benefit from a wealth of amenities and design-features which promote physical, mental and social health, making it a unique and unforgettable space for businesses and their employees to call home.

A curated programme of activities in both Eden and across New Bailey – including yoga classes, networking events and seasonal activities – helps foster a strong sense of community among occupiers and the wider neighbourhood.

EDEN

What our occupants say

“Feedback from colleagues has been beyond positive, with many people sharing they are proud to be part of such a forward-thinking, environmentally friendly development.

Eden’s facilities and features have been designed around the needs and requirements of people, and colleagues have applauded how small things such as cycle stores, showers and changing rooms have boosted wellbeing by allowing people to consider active travel to the office rather than driving.”

James Chadwick, partner and head of location, TLT

“We are committed to sustainable growth as a firm and in how we advise our economic engine clients. With its innovative design and sustainability credentials, Eden is the perfect address to support BDO’s future success in the region.”
